LULL IN BATTLE NEAR VERDUN

Germans Shifting Attack With Great Violence Against Forts

SHELLS FILLING AIR

French Positions Firmly Held Along Eight-Mile Front, Although Attacks Are Increasing

London, March 1—A lull in the Verdun fighting throughout last night is reported in a wireless dispatch from Paris this afternoon.

The dispatch gave warning, however, that there is no reason to believe that the German offensive movement has been abandoned.

London, March 1—Six miles east and northeast of Verdun, the shifting German attack is being directed with great violence against Forth de Vaux and de Tavannes.

The Germans are battering French positions on the Metz-Verdun railway with heavy artillery brought up from Etain.

The guns of Fort de Tavannes, two miles away, have beaten back charge after charge by whole German brigades.

North and south of the railway the crown prince is smashing heavily at the French front, aiming to draw the German net still closer around the French fortress.

The Germans moving southward from Dieppe are advancing on Fort de Vaux, preceded by a hurricane fire of artillery. The French are replying shell for shell and holding their positions east of Vaux village.

Thirteen miles southeast of Verdun, the city of Fresnes, an important highway center, is two-thirds surrounded by Germans.

Vicious fighting is occurring around Manheulles, two miles to the northwest of Fresnes, the French attempting to recapture the position and strengthen their front at Fresnes.

The latest dispatches from Paris report that French positions are firmly held along the eight-mile front north of Verdun, but the German cannonade is increasing in violence, indicating the beginning of a fresh assault against Pepper Heights.

Central Trades and Labor Council Employs Attorneys to Defend Suit of State Federation

Richmond, March 1—The Central Trades and Labor Council on yesterday, through its committee appointed for the purpose, employed Senator L. O. Wendenburg, T. Gray Haddon and J. C. Duke as counsel to handle the side of the local council in a suit being brought by the State Federation of Labor against Howard T. Colvin secretary-editor of the State Federation of Labor for the return of a complete account of all funds handled by him in the publication of several periodicals of the Federation.

At a meeting last Friday night the Richmond Central Trades and Labor Council decided to regard the suit against Mr. Colvin as if it was against the Central Trades and Labor Council and to resist it. A member of the committee stated yesterday that the Central Trades and Labor Council of Richmond composed almost half the membership of the entire State Federation of Labor.

LOSS OF LA PROVENCE

One Thousand Persons Perish on Former French Liner Last Saturday.

Paris, March 1—One thousand persons are believed to have perished in the sinking of the French auxiliary cruiser Provence in Mid-Mediterranean Saturday.

Of 1,800 persons aboard the cruiser the latest statement from the ministry of marine declares, about 800 have been saved. Ten other vessels have rushed to the scene in search of more survivors.

Of this number 296 of the crew have been landed at Malta and about 400 on the Greek island of Melos.

Ten boats are now at the scene of the disaster, continuing the search for other survivors, the ministry of marine announced.

Not a word is forthcoming from the ministry of marine as to how La Provence met her fate. It is generally accepted as a fact, however, that she was sent to the bottom by a torpedo, as German and Austrian submarines have been operating recently in Mediterranean waters.

One report states that two submarines attacked the cruiser. Before she could summon aid she had been torpedoed and immediately began to sink.

The signals of distress sent out did not bring aid until after the former liner had sunk.

Paris, March 1.—A German submarine torpedoed and sank the French auxiliary cruiser Provence in the Mediterranean on Saturday, with a loss of life now estimated at between 900 and 1,100, the ministry of marine announced today.

A statement issued today made known the fact that the Provence as a submarine victim, and at the same time established the identity of the attacking craft.

Though an official statement yesterday afternoon reported about 870 of the 1,800 persons aboard the Provence saved, the latest dispatches today accounted for only the 696 survivors landed at Malta and Melos.

It is believed possible, however, that other survivors were picked up by Greek fishing craft in the vicinity and are being take ninto Greek ports.

TEUTONIC TIDE OF WAR EBBING

Struggle at Verdun and Other Places Slackens to Gunfire

HOLDING ENEMY BACK

Teutons Allege They Have Passed Dieppe and Two Other Towns and Taken Two Others

Wth the lessening of the activity of the contending forces to the north of Verdun, the French in the Woevre region, east of Verdun, are using their artillery to break up German preparations for further advances toward the fortress. At various points the fire of the French guns has prevented the Germans from launching offensives.

In the Vosges mountains there also has been great artiller yactivity by the French near Senones and Bandde-Sapt; while near Seppois the Germans have been driven out of trenches they had previously taken. In the Champagne, German fortified works in the region of Hill 193 have been battered by the French guns and the crater of a mine exploded by the Germans was occupied by the French.

The Germans have added several additional points to their terrian in the fighting about Verdun, having been enabled to construct trenches on the slopes north of the cote du Poivre and to capture an armored work northwest of Douaumont, and have taken the towns of Manheulles and Champlon, 13 miles southeast of Verdun.

London, March 1.—Late advices from the scene of the gigantic conflict around the forts of Verdun indicate that the Germans have made slight gains at some points, but that the French reinforced, are generally holding their own. The Germans claim that their troops have passed Dieppe Abancourt and Blanzee and that they have taken Manhueller and Champlon.

An early report from the French War Office stated:

"To the north of Verdun the bombardment has continued with increased intensity.

"In the sector to the east of the Meuse last night there was a resumption of the previous violent local attacks, particularly in the vicinity of the village of Douaumont, where the fighting came to hand-and-hand encounters resulting in the driving back of the enemy by our troops.

"In the Woevre district the Germans were successful, after an intense preparatory artillery fire in gaining possession of the village of Manheulles. An immediate counter-attack on our part brought us back to the western boundary of this village, which we now hold under our fire.

"In Lorraine the enemy was successful in penetrating several small sections of our advance trenches, but they were almost immediately driven out of these positions."

East of the Meuse last night there was a resumption of violent local attacks. Near the village of Douaumont the fighting came to a hand-to-hand encounter and the Germans were repulsed by French troops.

RUN OVER BY BROTHER.

Distressing Accident Costs Life of Wilmington Man.

Wilmington, Del. March 1.—Stricken with a fainting spell while riding with his brother, George W. Kreer, Jr., on a delivery truck at Third and Adams streets, Monday evening, Ernest Kreer, 27 years old, fell into the street and was run over by the heavy machine. He died early yesterday morning at the Delaware Hospital.

When George, who was operating the truck, saw his brother fall he tried to catch him, and did grasp his coat, but could not hold, and Ernest fell directly in front of the wheels. George tried to stop the machine, but could not do so in time, and the wheels passed over Ernest's shoulder.

DOCTOR DETWILER KILLED

Farmer, Who Had Been Pronounced Insane, Commits Deed

Fairfax, Va., March 1—Dr. E. L. Detwiler, a practicing physician of Herndon, Va., was shot dead yesterday morning by Carl Rosier, a farmer living about 3 miles from Herndon. Rosier fired a load of buckshot into Dr. Detwiler's abdomen killing him instantly. Rosier, who is thought to be insane, was arrested and brought to the Fairfax county jail

According to Sheriff Allison, of Fairfax county, who investigated the shooting, Dr. Detwiler was called to the Rosier farmhouse yesterday morning about 10 o'clock to attend Mrs. Rosier, the aged mother of the accused.

Dr. Detwiler recommended that the patient be sent to a hospital, and in a conversation which followed Rosier objected to the manner in which the doctor addressed his mother.

Before the doctor left the house, Rosier went upstairs and returned with a shot gun which he pointed at Dr. Detwiler and fired. The full charge entered the victim's abdomen.

After firing the shot, Rosier rushed from the house and went to Dranesville, a small town about three and one-half miles from Herndon, and gave homself up to Constable Dave Mahoney, who later turned the prisoner over to Sheriff Allison.

The coroner's inquest, which was held yesterday afternoon, found that Dr. Detwiler came to his death from a gun-shot wound inflicted by Rosier. Sheriff Allison said that Rosier admitted the shooting, but claimed that he acted in self-defense.

Rosier, who is about 30 years old, was adjudged insane about three or four years ago, the officials say, but he was later released and allowed to return home, where he has since lived with his mother.

Dr. Detwiler was well known in Fairfax county. He leaves a wife and five children, the oldest 22 years of age.

TERRIFIC AIR PRESSURE.

A French Soldier Vividly Describes Terrors of Verdun.

Paris, March 1.—Military critics here express the opinion that the German forces, which at the beginning of the battle around Verdun numbered probably half a million, now exceed 750,000.

"I fought since the beginning of the war," says a soldier who has returned to Paris and who was present at the fighting at Ornes. "I saw the shambles at Suippes and Souain. They were nothing to what I saw last week. The enemy advanced, and we retired under orders, but we killed them by the dozn, It was so terrible that I, who have watched my comrades fall around me almost with indifference, sudder as my memory recalls those scenes.

"As their battalions advanced upon us they were in serried masses, by files of 20. The shrapnel from our 75-millimeter guns and the projectiles from our heavy artillery fell among them, and you could see the great gaps, as if a mower had passed with a scythe. Then high explosive shells which burst on contact fell, and limbs shot into the air. We were so close that pieces of their torn flesh fell among us. Eventually we reached Moncourt, and took shelter for a time in a wood. Althought it was 3 o'clock in the morning, the bursting shells made it as clear as day, giving the battlefield the aspect of a fairy scene.

"From behind the french artillery fired into the German masses, the German shells flying over our heads toward the Douaumont section. Then our machine guns, placed in batteries every five yards, began to play, and we saw the dead in groups upright, where there was not room to fall. From Moncourt I followed the supply road to Fleury, where I took the light railway toward Verdun. The heavy guns near Douaumont and Damlop were firing as fast as they could be loaded. When we passed between the two points the air pressure, produced by the continuous discharge, was so terrifice that blood rushed from our ears and our lungs almost ceased working."

PROHIBITION BILL MEETS APPROVAL

Goes on Calendar Substantially as it Came From Senate

REJECT AMENDMENTS

Salary of Prohibition Commissioner $3,500—Cider May Contain Three Per Cent of Alcohol.

Richmond, March 1.—Rejecting by decisive majorities all amendments looking to integral changes, the House Committee on Moral and Social Welfare voted unanimously last night to report the Mapp prohibition bill substantially in the form in which it passed the Senate.

Yielding to the pressure of Chairman Jordan, Delegate Williams and other members of the committee who were opposed to the section prohibiting the sale and distribution in Virginia of newspapers published out of the State when such papers carry liquor advertisements, the committee amended this section to allow the sale and distribution of such newspapers to bona fide purchasers or subscribers.

The qualification was attached to meet the fear of Senator Mapp and Rev. James Cannon, Jr., both of whom sat with the committee through its two sessions yesterday, that if the section were stricken out entirely, the way would be opened for the distribution of whisky-house publications supplied to the people of the State free of charge.

In deference to the claim of cider manufacturers that the Mapp bill in allowing the sale in or out of the State of cider made from home-grown apples, containing not more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol, it was granting a right that was nullified by an impossible condition, the committee raised the alcohol percentage to 1 per cent. In no other respects was the cider section of the Mapp bill changed. The testimony of cider manufacturers before the House commitee was to the effect that cider often contains more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol when it leaves the press, and that it would be next to impossible to hold the percentage of alcohol to this minimum under ordinary conditions without the use of preservatives.

Senator Mapp and Senator Walker, both patrons of the prohibition bill, addressed the committee at length on the Gordon amendment providing for the enforcement of the prohibition law by the Attorney-General Senator Mapp repeated the argument against the plan that he made before the committee Monday night, while Senator Walker gave it his strong indorsement. He was one of the leaders in the unsuccessful Senate fight for the adoption of the Conrad amendment looking to the same end.

Richmond, March 1—Delegate Page of Albermarle yesterday offered a resolution in the House directing the State Accountant to examine the book of the State Auditor and the State Treasurer and report upon the condition of the treasury. The resolution was referred to the Finance Committee.

There will be a surplus instead of a deficit in the State Treasury in 1918 if the revenue bills now before the Finance Committees are passed, according to a formal statement made by Chairman Brewer, of the House Committee on Appropriations.

If the bills are not passed there will be, Mr. Brewer shows, a treasury deficit in 1918 of $595,300.

Passage of the bills will mean a slight increase in tax rates, but the taxes which will then be paid by the individual will be considerably less than those paid under the old tax system.

Chairman Jordan, of the House Committee on Moral Welfare, held another meeting of his committee yesterday to further consider the prohibition bill and to consider particularly the amendments suggested by Delegate Lindsay Gordon, of Louisa.

One of Mr. Gordon's amendments is to place the enforcement of prohibition laws in Virginia upon the shoulders of the Attorney General. This amendment was offered in the Senate last week and defeated. It is likely that it will be unfavorably reported by the committee now considering it and voted down by the House.

Mr. Gordon's second amendment proposes the appointment of a purchasing agent through whom all desiring to take advantage of the monthly allowance offered by the bill shall buy their whiskey. The purchasing agent is to be under the direction of the Moral Welfare Commissioner, is to keep a careful record of all purchases and must by law keep all his books open for inspection.

Both amendments were opposed by Dr. James Cannon, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, and by Walter Mapp, senator from Accomac. The point was made that if the Attorney General were made ex officio moral welfare commissioner the Anti-Saloon League and the liquor question would be thrown into politics. The other amendment was opposed because it was said to be impracticable.

One or two other amendments, principally to protect the cider industry, were also considered. The bill, as it now stands, prohibits the manufacture and sale of alcoholic cider. It does not appear likely prohibition leaders say, that the cider amendment will be favorably reported.

After putting a final touch upon the defeate of the Gordon initiative and referendum measure by refusing to consider it, and after refusing to take up out of its order the Reed tax bill, which proposes to increase the school tax on real estate from 10 cents on the $100 to 20 cents, the House yesterday went into consideration of the general appropriation bill, voting for the appropriations section by section as explained by Chairman Brewer, of the Appropriations Committee.

The Senate got into a lively debate, furnishing some little diversion yesterday, when the bill which passed the House at the morning session increasing the salary of Auditor of Public Accounts Moore to $5,000, came up.

The special order—the co-ordinate college bill—was passed by, and Senator Garrett, chairman of the Finance Committee, moved that the committee be discharged from its consideration, saying it had already been considered. This was adopted.

The formal readings of the bill was then dispensed with and Senator Strode offered an amendment making the salary $4,500. He said that he was opposed to the increase, saying that the salary would be equal to that of the Governor and more than that of the judges of the Supreme court of Appeals.

Senator Davis, of Franklin, said that the demand for an increase came at an inopportune time when the Finance Committee was seeking more revenue and when there was a deficit

The amendment was adopted, and then the amended bill was adopted.

CRISIS IN THE SUBMARINE WAR

Result of Campaign May Involve United States in The War

TO SINK ARMED CRAFT

Washington, Recognizing Danger in New Crusade, Witholds Judgment on Teutons' Course.

Washington, March 1.—Results of the new Austro-German submarine campaign against armed merchant ships of the Entente Allies beginning last midnight are awaited by the United States with grave concern. Although under their new instructions, Teutonic naval commanders are authorized to sink without warning all armed enemy merchantmen they encounter, it is understood they have been told to make sure if possible that no American citizens are aboard any ship attacked. Furthermore, in the latest communication regarding submarine warfare, Germany has assured the United States that the new orders are so formulated as to prevent the destruction of enemy liners, "on account of their armament unless such armament is proved."

The attitude of the United States government toward the new policy of Germany and Austria has not been definitely determined. President Wilson yesterday discussed the subject in a conference with Secretary Lansing and then laid the German communication before his cabinet. Later it was said that because the all important appendices to the German memorandum had been delayed in transit the State Department thus far was unable to determine whether claims set forward by Germany and Austria in justification of their course were sustained.

Moreover, it has not yet been decided whether the reiterated assurances rgarding the future conduct of submarine warfare, contained in the German note, are of a character broad enough to warrant acceptance of the German proposal to settle the issues growing out of the sinking of the Luistania. A decision in that connection may be made within a few days, and the State Department today probably will take steps to determine what has become of the missing appendices, which were started in the mails from Berlin nearly three weeks ago.

Meanwhile, if any American citizen is injured during the attack by a submarine on a merchant ship which does not and has no intention of using its armament otherwise than defensively, a grave situation will arise.

The United States stands at this time, as it has always done, for the right of American citizens to travel with safety on defensively armed ships. If the German contentions are sustained, however, and it is proved conclusively that a ship upon which an American may be injured used defensive armament for purposes of offense, it is considered unlikely that this Government will take any action. It never has contended that ships committing attacks or other offensive acts or under orders to so conduct themselves are immune from summary destruction.

TRAPPED BOY TRIES TO KILL.

Lebanon, Pa., Feb. 29. —County Detective Scattazahn yesterday narrowly escaped death at the hands of Paul Smith, a youthful thief whom he was arresting. When the officer entered the shanty where Smith and his pals rendezvoused, Smith whipped out a revolver and demanded that the officer throw up his hands.

Instead Scattazahn closed in on his man, seizing him by the throat and the hand holding the gun, just as the weapon was discharged. The bullet missed Scattazahn's head and a second shot went wild. Smith was overcome with the assistance of other officers, and he and his pal, Jaul Arms, are in jail awaiting a hearing on charges, including a series of robberies.

SUICIDE OF CONDUCTOR

Samuel J. Fullerton Swallows Bichloride of Mercury Yesterday Afternoon.

Samuel J. Fullerton, a freight conductor employed by the Washington and Old Dominion Railway, committed suicide yesterday by taking bichloride of mercury tablets. The fatal dose was taken early yesterday afternoon at his residence, 213 north Alfred street, where Fullerton resided with his wife and two small children. Soon after Dr. M. D. Delaney was called in and the man was removed to the Alexandria Hospital at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon where he was attended by Drs. Delaney and W. M. Smith. He died at 8:30 o'clock and although conscious up to the time of his death did not make any statement as to his reasons for taking the poison.

His body was removed today to Wheatley's undertaking establishment. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made. Dr. T. M. Jones, city coronor, held that an inquest was unnecessary.

Fullerton was a native of New York and had made his residence here for the past six months.

GERMAN SHIPS SEIZED.

Italy Requisitions Vessels Interned in Her Ports.

London, March 1 — It was announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the Italian Government had requisitioned 34 of the 37 German steamers interned in Italian ports.

Recent reports from Rome have indicated the possibility of a declaration of War on Germany, by the Italian Parliament today.

Washington, March 1.— The German ships seized by Italy are worth millions of dollars. A total of 57 German and Austrian vessels are in Italian ports, the Austrian ships having been seized when Italy declared war on the dual monarchy. The status of the German vessels until now has been the same as that of German vessels which remained in American ports after war began.

The allied nations are short of ships, and transfer of the German vessels to the flag of Italy and their use by the Ailies would do much towards relieving the congestion of goods on American docks awaiting shipment to the allied countries.

Officials here explained that vessels of an enemy country impressed into service are operated by the government and revenues derived are kept as separate accounts. At the conclusion of peace, the revenues are accounted for and a settlement made.

SIEGE OF VERDUN

Historic Twelfth Century Cathedral of Notre Dame Being Smashed

Paris, March 1—The city of Verdun is being battered to pieces by heavy German guns.

Projectiles from the big siege howitzers of the Germans are smashing the historic twelfth century cathedral of Notre Dame and other historic buildings.

Details received here today from the French front show that the Germans have been shelling the city of Verdun since last Thursday and that many civilians have been killed.

The remaining civilians have been ordered to leave by the French commander.

The heaviest fire came from the direction of Spincourt, which is nearly 20 miles northeast of the city and far behind the battle lines.

The bombardment, which began at dawn Thursday, lasted until dawn on Friday without intermission. At least eight 12 and 14 inch shells fell in the city or the suburbs every hour. Eight seven exploded in the streets during the cannonade, tearing mighty excavations into the ground and shattering buildings into piles of wreckage.

Reports from Verdun say that 21 persons of the civilian population were killed by the shells. A small remnant of the population were still reluctant to leave, but were urged by the authorities to go and they crowded on freight cars used for the handling of artillery, and exposed to the snow and cold they departed for a safer region.

KILLS DEPUTY SHERIFF

Assassin Accused of Jumping Board Bill Uses Shot Gun on Officer

Rocky Mount, N. C. March 1—Defying arrest, George Collins, a young white man of Faucette township, Halifax county, Sunday fired upon and fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff C. M. Hawkins.

The young man was sought on a warrant, charging him with having jumped a board bill. Armed with a shotgun he defied arrest and opened fire on the officer, inflicting a wound in the stomach that resulted in Deputy Hawkin's death within a few hours.

The shooting was witnessed by five men and it is stated that young Collins threw down the gun after firing the fatal shots and started to walk away. One of the eye witnesses attempted to interfere and he was overpowered while the four other men would not take part in it at all. The man made his escape, but a posse was formed and Collins was captured near Littleton late Sunday night.

The shooting has aroused indignation throughout the immediate section, which is about 12 miles from Halifax. Deputy Hawkins was well known and held in high esteem over the county. He is survived by a widow and several children. Young Collins has been brought to Halifax and lodged in jail.

WILSON CALLS FOR SHOW DOWN

Asks For Early Vote on Resolution of Warning to Americans

Washington, March 1—President Wilson startled Congress last evening by calling for a show-down on his submarine policy.

The President wrote to the acting chairman of the Rules Committee of the House urging an early vote on the resolutions now pending warning Americans from traveling on armed merchant vessels.

The President declares that "the report that there are divided counsels in Congress in regard to the foreign policy of the government is being made injurious use of abroad." He expressed the belief that the report is false, and adds that "so long as it is anywhere credited it cannot fail to do the greatest harm and expose the country to the most serious risks."

The President thus has in fact invited a frank and full exchange of views in Congress on the administration's record.

He was 45 years old and is survived by his wife and three children. Three sisters, Miss Dorothy R. Lannon, Mrs. J. P. Quinn, and E. M. Adams, and one brother, John A. Lannon, also survive him. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Michael Dugan, a marine engineer, until recently in charge of the engines of the steamer "W. L. Davis," died yesterday afternoon at the Providence Hospital, Washington. Mr. Dugan suffered from gas poisoning several weeks ago and never completely recovered. He was discharged from the Emergency Hospital, but a week ago was taken to the Providence. He is survived by a son, Robert Dugan, of New York, and a sister, Miss Mary Dugan, of Washington. He was a member of Alexandria Lodge of Elks and a meeting of that organization will be held tonight when a "lodge of sorrow" will be formed to take action on his death. The body was brought here last night and taken to Wheatley's undertaking establishment. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Mrs. Benjamin R. Hughes, died at her home, 407 south Washington street last night. Besides her husband she is survived by several children.

Funeral services for John L. Davis were held this morning at 6:30 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic Church, and the remains taken to St. Mary's county, Md., for burial.

Mrs. Lillie Maude Fletcher, 32 years old, wife of John F. Fletcher, died last night at her home, 2621 Duke street.

GO NO FARTHER.

The Evidence is at Your Door.

Alexandria proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt.

Mrs. R. H. Dawson, 409 N. West St., Alexandria, says: "My back was so stiff and lame that I couldn't do anything without great suffering. When I got down, it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. Sharp twinges often caught me in the small of my back and hips and I couldn't move until they eased up. In the morning, my back ached so badly that I could hardly get out of bed. My kidneys were irregular in action and the kidney secretions caused me much misery. I felt all out of sorts and had no ambition to do anything. A neighbor advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at C. W. Summers' Drug Store. I never took another medicine that acted so quickly. One box put my kidneys in good working order and made my back strong."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Dawson had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE DISPUTE WITH GERMANY.

We can greet the first of March without any greater disquietude than we have felt in the past, in reference to the issue between the United States and Germany on the submarine issue as suggested by a contemporary. Instead of a diplomatic clash and locking horns, there appears to be room, if not for final agreement, at least for further discussion and absolutely closed to peace. We can still continue the conversation, it would seem, in a more agreeable tone and in a pleasanter frame of mind.

The essential, the vital point, so far as this country is concerned, is to find an honorable basis on which we can preserve the peace. That has been the guilding principal of Mr. Wilson's foreign policy from the beginning, and for that he has been reviled and reproached by all the evtremists in the United States, and very recently has been made for his cause the subject of a formidable indictment by Mr. Root. If he had been looking for war, he could have found a score of occasions which would have justified him from the Root and Roosevelt standpoint in putting the country into a hostile position. But his crime has been, according to the Republican and Progressive code, that he has been seeking earnestly for peace, even when peace seemed impossible, and that he has been willing to sacrifice everything but honor and right for that paramount object.

As has been suggested, what the German reply admits or promises can only be stated authoritatively by the State Department. After all, no matter what is said by diplomacy the last word will be said by the submarine, and as long as the war continues we cannot expect to eliminate the submarine as a controversial factor. Germany may virtually agree in principle to all that we demand, but the final test will come, not on paper, but on the ocean. The question of principle may come ultimately to depend on a question of fact, and that may provide fresh opportunities for prolonged diplomatic exchanges. The sea often tells no tales and leaves no witnesses, and if Germany is bent on duplicity and is prudent in her "frightfulness' it may be difficult to convict her of crime.

All this is true, but it does not lessen the relief that will be felt if we can escape from the crisis that appeared to be created by the submarine policy which Germany and Austria announced would be inaugurated today. The future still will contain its dangers, but it will be an international blessing if this present peril can be avoided. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." All we can do is to provide for the present and to trust that any settlement which may be agreed upon may prove more than a scrap of paper. If Mr. Wilson succeeds in discovering a peaceable way out of the difficulty consistent with national honor, he will have furnished a new claim to public confidence and support. It need not trouble him that he again may be donounced by the Roots and Roosevelts for his failure to play the part of an international swashbuckler.

THE KAISER IS STAKING ALL.

Lord Sydenham, who is recognized as one of England's greatest authorities on military questions has prepared an article dealing with recent developments in the theatres of war which are culminating in the battle of Verdun. Among other things he says:

The German people are beginning to question the wisdom of the creators of the war and the veracity of official assurances. There is now a real and earnest craving for peace which finds expression in frequent suggestions of terms which a year ago would have been scouted. Unless some great change occurs the stage will soon be reached at which the moderation of the German government will be widely proclaimed, in order that all blame for continuing the war may be thrown upon the Allies.

In such conditions there was a strong probability that some great effort would be made in the west, and after several local attacks on various points of the Allies line, the tremendous movement on Verdun was begun.

If the great venture north of Verdun proves only a local gain of ground at heavy cost, then, on the balance, it will not be far removed from disaster. In the nineteen months of war German strength has been materially reduced, but not broken. The allies had a long leeway to be fully provided with munitions. They stand more than ever united and determined that Europe shall be secured against future outbursts of the furor Teutonicus, and that the wrongs of small States shall be righted. The war can have only one end, and the determining factor may be the awakening of the German people, who cannot be indefinitely deceived and who are already beginning to think for themselves.

THE VERDUN DRIVE

(Baltimore American).

It now appears as though the Germans have about concluded that they can not batter down the Verdun forts unless at the same time they batter down all their powers of offense. They would then be left with a victory that could not be matured. It is a cause for wonder that the Kaiser should have directed that awful massacre of the flower of his army. His heady determination to reduce Verdun and then to bring out his fleet and with submarines, airships and the entire might of his navy to seek to reduce London alone accounts for this Verdun enterprise. He doubtless also hoped by taking Verdun to stun his enemies and cause them to throw up their hands in hopeless surrender.

The frightfulness method has not worked despite its use throughout the war. And it will not work. The Germans are still making drives at the French, and they doubtless will seek by a still more desperate offensive to weaken the line at some point through which they can disgorge in myriad hosts in the direction of Paris.

But the French, with valor and courage beyond possible exaggeration, have held the Germans in check and doubtless will continue to do so. If so, then the long bow of the Kaiser has been bent in vain and the arrow aimed at Paris has failed to pass the trenches.

WAR OF EXTERMINATION.

(Richmond Virginian)

We are confident of this one thing—that, in order to bring the war to a conclusion, Germany has decided, in so far as it is able to do so, to carry on a war of extermination.

Germany has been disappointed with the grim Jsilence which greeted her recent peace feelers. Th allies very plainly indicated that the war instead of being near an end was but just begun in so far as they were concerned.

Germany's reply was the firecest offensive since the campaign against Paris, an offensive which will probably lead to the capture of Verdun and, with simultaneous flanking movements, begins to seriously menace Paris itself.

Germany has, in other words, decided fully on a course involving the sacrifice of untold lives. Germany has fully decided to pay the price.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Through the efforts of Pope Benedict XV, two prisoners of war, sentenced to death for espionage, have been saved from execution.

Fifteen men were killed and five seriously injured by an explosion of dust in mine No. 42, of the Davis Coal and Coke Company, at Kempton, W. Va., All the victims were foreigners. Fifty-one miners who were also at work at the time were rescued.

Mrs. Viereck, mother of the editor of the Fatherland, a New York publication, as stripped and searched by British authorities at Falmouth and also at the Downs when the Dutch liner Nieuw Amsterdam stopped at those ports, according to fellow passengers who have arrived at The Hague. She almost collapsed from her humiliating experience, they stated. Several other Americans were also reported to have been disrobed for examination.

Former Secretary of State Bryan is for President Wilsons renomination Mr. Bryan will probably lead a solid St. Louis convention. In the St. Louis platform Mr. Bryan will not attempt to inject planks either on preparedness or the administration's diplomatic policy, which would repudiate President Wilson's position. These authoritative statements regarding the former cabinet premier's political plans were made in Washington yesterday by Judge W. H. Thompson, Democratic State chairman of Nebraska.

It required only a fef minutes of discussion in the House yesterday to demonstrate that the Borland "rider," providing an eight-hour workday for government clerks in Washington, will meet a veritable storm of opposition when it is reached for a vote, probably Saturday, in the consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Leaders in the House last night, following a general crystallization of sentiment during the day, freely declared the "rider" is destined to a speedy defeat.

Instructions have been received by the Pittsburgh agents of the White Star Steamship Line not to book any passengers for the White Star liners Lapland, Baltic and Adriatic, which sail from New York between March 8 and 29. The notice advises agents to endeavor to influence persons contemplating voyages to Europe to take passage on American line boats. No reason for the action is known here.

A dispatch from Rome states that Bulgaria has notified that the restoration of Prince William of Wied to the Albanian throne will be considered an act of hostility.

The entente allies have massed from 500,000 to 1,000,000 fresh troops at Bordeaux, to be ready for emergencies, according to passengers who arrived in New York yesterday from France aboard the steamship Rochambeau. None of these soldiers, it was asserted, has been near the battle lines in any of the arenas of the war. They are said to comprise a part of Lord Kitchener's new army, and drafts from the French colonies.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The bodies of seven persons were found yesterday in the ruins of a farmhouse which burned some time during Monday night six miles northwest of Taloga, Ok., The dead have been identified as M. Creed, the occupant of the house; his wife, three children and his two brothers.

Walker Hill, chairman of the St. Louis City Democratic Committee has commissioned Franz Vittor, a Richmond sculptor, to make a bust of President Wilson, "to be unveiled when Wilson is renominated at St. Louis in June." The sculptor has left for Washington to be presented to the President.

Mrs. James Stone Helm, one of Kentucky's wealthiest omen died yesterday at Lexington, Ky. She went under the business name of J.M.Hanson and is said to have made more than one million dollars in obtaining magazine subscriptions. On one occasion she was offered $100,000 for the list of names of people who had subscribed to magazines through her. Mrs. Helm began her magazine work 20 years ago while employed as a country school teacher. She was 50 years of age.

Announcement was made semiofficially yesterday in Petrograd, that tremendous activity has been observed over the whole length of the German front in the East. There are various indications that spring will see another great effort by the Germans on the Russian front. Enormous quantities of incendiary and explosive bombs have been collected by the Germans. Another feature of these preparations is the bringing up of apparatus for aerial warfare on an increasing scale. Aerodromes are being enlarged and great numbers of aeroplanes forwarded from Germany.

The State Corporation Commission yesterday authorized the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia to acquire the lines of the Virginia-Tennessee Telephone Company, operating in Southwest Virginia and the Staunton Mutual Telephone Company, operating in Staunton and the Valley of Virginia. These two acquisitions will greatly extend the service of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, which recently acquired all intrastate lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

TRAPPED BY FRENCH.

German Troops Blown Up By Mine in the Woods.

Paris, March 1.—"Do you know about the trick we played on the Germans on Caures Wood?" was the question with which a French soldier who had been in the Verdun fighting introduced his account of an incident at the front.

"Well, to the north of Verdun," he continued, "a little beyond Beaumont, lies Caures wood. It was a point to which the Germans devoted special attention and therefore everything was done to give them as good a reception as possible.

"While our infantry on the fringe of the wood held off the enemy a lieutenant of engineers and his men made their final preparations in the wood, which had been carefully mined beforehand. When all was ready the infantry fell back and the Germans convinced that our men were bolting, tore after them in the woods yelling exultantly.

"When the last Frenchman was safely out of the woods on the other side some one posted near Beaumont pressed a button. There was a heavy bombardment and trees mingled with bodies shot into the air. Virtually every man of the many in the woods had been killed."

BANQUETERS MADE ILL

Trouble At Methodist Feast Blamed On Ice-Cream

San Francisco, March 1—Three hundred or more guests were made ill, probably by eating ice-cream, at a Methodist banquet February 22, it became known yesterday following an official report of the incident to the Methodist Ministers' Association. All of those made ill recovered within two days.

No chemical analysis was made of the food, but there was no thought among those in charge that a deliberate attempt to poison the food had been made.

It was charged that some unwholesome ingredient had been used unwittingly in the ice-cream.

PSYCHOLOGIST DEAD

Well-Informed Germans Believe Professor Ernest Mach, of Berlin Took His own Life

Berlin, March 1—The famous psychologist, Professor Ernest Mach, of Berlin, recently left the following communication:

"When leaving life, Professor Ernest Mach sends greetings to all that known him and asks for some remembrance. At his burial only the family will be present."

New York, March 1—No word of the death of Professor Ernest Mach has been published in this country. When the foregoing dispatch was shown to well-informed Germans tonight they said they could draw no other conclusion than that he had committed suicide.

The famous Ernest Mach is, or was professor of physics at Vienna University.

KILLS SELF; LETS CAR RUN.

Motorman's Suicide While on Duty At Norfolk Throws 50 Passengers Into Panic.

Norfolk, Va., March 1. —Holding a dead man in one arm, Mrs. Annie L. Myers cut off the current of a fast-moving electric car yesterday, probably saving 50 persons from serious injury, when Wallace H. Daniels, the motorman, fired a bullet into his brain.

The car was speeding along Grandy street, near 33rd street, when Daniels pulled a pistol from his pocket and fired a bullet into his brain.

Mrs. Myers had just boarded the car. She occupied the third seat from the front. She and Daniels had been conversing when the car stopped to take on a passenger. Daniels, without warning, pulled the gun and fired.

Mrs. Myers screamed and ran to him, She caught him in her arms as he fell and with the other hand shut off the current. There were 50 passengers on the car and a panic followed. Several people tried to get out of the windows, but Conductor Prin, gle, who was trying to reach the front platform of the car, held them back. The conductor finally managed to reach the front platform and put on the brakes. He summoned a doctor, but Daniels was dead.

Mrs. Myers says she had known Daniels for nine months. She says when she learned he was married she told him they could not be friends. She says Daniels worried about financial obligations that he was unable to meet. He told her his troubles and had threatened to kill himself before.

GRAND TRUNK DEPOT BURNS.

Big Building and Number of Trains Destroyed in Montreal.

Montreal, March 1.— The Grand Trunk depot, one of the oldest buildings in Montreal, was destroyed by fire which early today burst out simultaneously in several places.

Fire fighters were unable to check the flames, owing to the tremendous headway made by the blaze when the first alarm was given.

The huge building, containing tons of freight and baggage, was reduced to ashes.

The burning of a number of trains added a spectacular touch. Flames from the burning buildings shot hundreds of feet in the air, illuminating a large area. The cause of the fire is unknown. No lives are believed to have been lost.

THIS LITTLE WOMAN GAINS 5 POUNDS ON ONE BOTTLE

Another Thin, Nervous, Pain-Racked Woman Restored to Health

Startling Statement by Mrs. Herfurth, 619 Park Road

In this age the public is accustomed to strange and unusual occurrences and the newspapers are filled with sensation after sensation, but in spite of this the story of a thin, nervous, painracked little woman, almost giving up in despair and wasting away from day to day, would hardly be believed if this paper did not state the name, facts and street address to prove the remarkable statements in this case.

Mrs. N. Herfurth, of 619 Park road Washington, in a signed statement says that she has gained five pounds in weight after being practically an invalid for years and unable to attend to the smallest duties, after taking one bottle of the great herbal remedy Dreco. This lady is well known and tells the story of her own free will and accord and many of her friends and neighbors are also in possession of the fact. "For years, she says, I have suffered from constipation, headaches, pains in my back and limbs, rheumatism, so nervous I could not sleep, coated tongue, bad taste in my mouth, and after eating my stomach would get sour and fill up with gas, with a burning sensation. I was going down all the time and I knew my husband was uneasy about me. One day he brought home a bottle of Dreco and I began taking it and all my troubles began to improve. At the end of the first bottle I am feeling better than I have for many months and I weigh five pounds more than when I started taking it. I am on my second now and shall continue it as it the greatest medicine that was ever sold from a drug store." Dreco is sold by E. J. Allen and Co., Alexandria at $1.00 a Bottle.

WOMAN MURDERED.

Philadelphia, March 1 — Struck down with a single blow from a weapon in the hand of an unknown person, a woman, whose identity, has not yet been fully settled, was found dead last night in Reese street, between DeLancy and Cypress, her body lying in the gutter and blood flowing from a deep gash in her neck. The victim was about 30 years of age, fairly well dressed and wore a gold bracelet, a gold wrist watch and several rings. The circumstances surrounding her death developed so many obscure clews that the case is said by the police to be one of the most baffling that ever occurred in the downtown section.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 122

MACHINE'S STAB FATAL.

Knife it Throws Kills Man Working There But Week.

Easton, Pa. March 1.—William B. Egolf, aged 67, was killed in the plant of the William Wharton, Jr., Company yesterday, while operating a wood-turning machine. A sharp knife was thrown from the machine and struck him in the abdomen, inflicting a wound that caused him to bleed to death in 10 minutes. He had worked at the plant only a week.

NOTICE

WATCH THE DYE—Consult your dealer before purchasing colored goods, as to the washing qualities thereof.

A canvass of the textile trade, by representatives of trade papers, and Laundrymen's Associations, show a large majority of dye houses, connected with textile mills have closed down, due to the shortage of fast colors, and the prohibitive prices, of that little which remains.

The better quality of shirtings, and wash goods now being worn are fast colors, but this cannot continue for any great length of time.

The colors which are most questionable at the present time are: Red; blacks, in cotton ginghams. black, blue and tan, hose, of medium quality; blue materials. etc.

Under these circumstances, and for further reasons, that there is no known method whereby fugitive colors can be washed so that they will not run, and no way of knowing whether colors are permanent, except by washing, we beg to notify our friends and the general public, that we use every care in handling colored goods, but cannot be responsible when goods fade or crock, as some of them surely will.

Some makers of colored wash goods are already notifying the dealers they cannot guarantee the permanency of colors.

In view of the situation we strongly urge our customers to use as much white goods as possible until such time as the permanent dyes will be again available.
